cadalystcontents

Summer 2011 www.cadalyst.com

Cover art direction: Gwen Thomsen Rhoads Some icons: © iStockphoto.com/Paul Pantazescu

features

10 techtrends By Heather Livingston

CAD It Yourself

Do-it-yourselfers are gaining access to professional design and fabrication technologies that allow creativity and innovation to flourish.

14 cadalystlabsreport By Alex Herrera

How to Configure a Workstation for CAD

Performance, longevity, value: Your next system can have it all if you know how to shop. We're here to help.

cadalystlabsreviews

22 firstlook By Patrick Davis

Autodesk Building Design Suite Premium 2012With the latest release cycle, Autodesk introduces a

With the latest release cycle, Autodesk introduces a product bundle that offers increased functionality at a discounted price.

26 firstlook By R.K. McSwain

HP Designjet T2300 eMFP

HP's new web-connected, large-format color Designjet produces top-of-the-line prints, scans, and copies.

28 firstlook By Ron LaFon

NEC MultiSync EA232WMi Monitor

High-quality, LED-backlit unit delivers a pleasing display at a remarkably low price.

columns

30 cadmanager By Robert Green

CAD Standards: Strategies for Success

Establishing guidelines for your workplace is just the beginning. Once you've set standards, how can you persuade your users to follow them?

32 circlesandlines By Lynn Allen

Everyday Improvements in AutoCAD 2012

These new features and improvements may not be glamorous, but they will help you get through work faster — and that's always a good thing.

34 userprofile By Cyrena Respini-Irwin

The Utility of 3D

As a multi-discipline designer of water treatment plants, Bob Beatty bridges the gap between 2D and 3D every day.

departments

- 4 editor'swindow
- 7 cadcentral
- 7 cadcartoon
- 8 hottipharry